

STRANGE TALE OF THE FAR EAST

Another Russian Victory Has Been Announced, But Not Believed by Japanese.

THE SITUATION IS STILL COMPLEX

No One Seems To Know Exactly What Is Now Going on in Manchuria--Many Stories Have Been Sent Out From Russia.

(By Wisconsin News Association.)

Chefoo, May 23.—From Chinese sources comes news of more hard fighting north of Port Arthur.

These reports say that the Japanese, heavily reinforced, are attempting to drive in the Russian outposts, and that several desperate charges on Russian positions have been successful between Liu Shui Tun and Kin Chow, both sides losing heavily. The Japanese artillery fire is said to be much more accurate and effective than that of the Russians. The Japanese infantry, under cover of the guns, charge with desperate valor and are rarely repulsed.

It is said that the Japanese force now in front of Port Arthur is not less than 40,000 men, plentifully supplied with both field and siege guns. They now hold positions strongly entrenched within fifteen miles of the port itself, and are drawing closer constantly. It is believed that they will be ready for the final assault within a week or ten days.

St. Petersburg, May 23.—Rais were displaced on the railway outside the town of Krenzenburg when the Emperor was about to leave it on his southern trip. The danger was discovered before the imperial train started. Another train was upset. The official figures are four wounded in the accident.

After Vladivostok.

Shanghai, May 23.—A report reaching here that the Japanese squadron investing Vladivostok began a vigorous bombardment of that port on Saturday and, under cover of the fire of the fleet, torpedo boats steamed into the harbor and destroyed the stranded cruiser Bogaty.

It is said the blockade of Vladivostok has been drawn closer than it has been at any time since the war began, to frustrate an attempt said to be contemplated by Admiral Yessen to escape and go to meet the Russian Baltic squadron when it starts east.

Went to Port Arthur.

London, May 23.—A dispatch to the Japanese Legation from Tokyo says Vice Admiral Togo has reported today as follows: "The gunboat squadron and the torpedo boat destroyers and torpedo boat flotillas approached Port Arthur yesterday for the purpose of reconnoitering, which was successfully effected with little damage, in spite of a hot fire from the forts. There were no casualties on our side."

London, May 23.—Gen. Kouropatkin apparently has decided to give battle at Liaoyang, and troops are being hurried to that point. Eleven military trains, carrying Urals Cossacks, have arrived at Liaoyang daily for several days.

A dispatch from Japanese headquarters, dated May 19, says:

"Both armies are preparing for the next phase of the campaign. The Russians appear to be resolved to make a stand at Liaoyang. Their right front rests on Hatching and crosses the great Fekling and at Hatching."

THREE WIDOWS FOLLOW.

CONTRACTOR TO GRAVE

Death of Wealthy Man at Des Moines Causes Trio of Women to Claim Him as Legal Spouse.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 23.—When the remains of the late E. L. Dubois, a wealthy contractor of this city, were carried to the cemetery Sunday they were followed by three women each claiming to be his lawful widow. One came from Denver, Col., gives the name of Mrs. Mary E. Dubois and claims that she was married to Dubois in 1880 in Joplin, Mo., and that she has three children by him. The second Mrs. Dubois came from New Orleans. She refused to talk of her claims. The third woman was married to Dubois at West Union, Iowa, and has lived there with him for several years. There was no scene at the funeral, the women pledging themselves to friends of the dead man not to make a disturbance.

Dubois had a notable career. He was a Frenchman and was an officer in the Franco-Prussian war. As a contractor he did work in all parts of the world, notably in Brazil, where he was decorated by the government for his achievements. He came to Des Moines about nine years ago and was prominent in fraternal and business circles.

Prior to coming here he lived in New Orleans, Denver and other cities. Dubois was successful as a contractor and left a considerable estate. An effort is being made to effect a settlement among the rival claimants for his property.

chanking." It found northwesterly as far as the Taitse river. Their center is protected by the difficult Motien pass. Their position, which is of great strength, is rendered more formidable by earthworks.

The main body of the Russians cannot be persuaded to venture further south pending strategic developments in the west.

Kuroki Awaits Reinforcements.

The correspondent on the dispatch boat Haimun, in a wireless message, sent by way of Weihaiwei, says he is still not allowed to enter the real theater of war, but claims to make a more accurate estimate of the conditions where he is than he has hitherto done. According to his information Gen. Kuroki finds it necessary to halt at Fengwangcheng to pull his force together for the advance over the heavy country lying between him and Liaoyang, and to await the landing of the third army, which will advance towards the same objective until able to co-operate with him.

Apparently Gen. Kuroki has suffered annoyance by the Cossacks menacing his communications. Accordingly troops guarding his communications have been reinforced by reserve battalions from Japan.

The Russians on Gen. Kuroki's front maintain observation groups, which are in constant touch with the Japanese outposts.

Port Arthur Conjectures.

The fortunes of Gen. Oku's army show some success, but he is meeting with stubborn resistance. The division that landed in Kinchen bay, isolating Port Arthur, will have the duty of reducing the fortress. Untoward events of the last week will stimulate the Japanese to reduce the fortress by a coup de main. There is every indication that the Russians are making strenuous efforts to prevent its too rapid fall. Guns from their disabled ships have been placed in recently constructed shore batteries, a succession of which cover the northeastern approaches to Kinchen and also cover the approaches to Dally, which up to Sunday, May 22, the Japanese had not occupied.

Report Lacks Confirmation.

Although the ultimate case of Port Arthur is hopeless, if the Russians maintain the attitude their field works indicate, it will not fall without heavy sacrifices. Considerable supplies of food still reach Pigeon bay by junks from China. The garrison is short of coal. There is no shortage of ammunition.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg admits that the report of a sortie by the Port Arthur garrison has not been confirmed. It appears to have originated in the receipt of Lieut. Gen. Stoessel's report of the fight at Kinchen, this, together with the fact that Gen. Stoessel commands at Port Arthur, giving rise to the rumor that the garrison had made a sortie.

Man Suspected of Having Murderous Designs on Chief Executive Takes His Own Life.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 23.—The lifeless body of Peter O. Elliott, the man who was arrested several months ago in Washington, D. C., on suspicion of being a lunatic with probably murderous designs on President Roosevelt, was found Sunday morning suspended from the girder of a railroad bridge in South Minneapolis. Elliott had been arrested a few days ago as an escaped inmate of the St. Peter insane hospital, but had been released.

In choosing a way for self-destruction he had made careful plans to make the job sure. He had tied the rope in such a manner that when he jumped from the bridge his neck was broken.

On the body was found a long letter in Swedish supposed to be an explanation of his life and conduct, but while prominent Swedes say the language of the letter shows that the man was finely educated, they are unable to translate the letter into intelligible English.

A slight improvement was noticeable in the condition of Baroness Hengelmüller, the wife of the Austrian ambassador at Washington. She, however, is very much depressed and suffers from extreme nervousness.

CITIZENS ASKED TO MEET AN EMERGENCY

Hotel Accommodations Will Be Insufficient for Big Gathering of Mystic Workers on June 7.

In view of the fact that the hotels of the city will be unable to furnish sufficient accommodations for all of the visitors at the biennial convention of the Mystic Workers of the World which opens here on June 7, the committee of the local lodge has issued a statement calling on all citizens who can possibly do so to throw open their homes. Those having suitable rooms to rent will confer a favor upon the committee by notifying J. W. Boyes at Port, Bailey & Co.'s store.

British Commons' "Egg Boiler."

In the British house of commons, as soon as the question to be decided is put from the chair, a clerk at the table sets in motion a huge sand glass, familiarly known to members as the "egg boiler," probably because it takes three minutes to run out. As the last sand runs through the glass the sergeant-at-arms instantly locks the massive oak doors of the chamber, and only those members who have succeeded in getting through the doorway can vote.

SEVEN DEATHS IN EXPLOSION

INJURED PERSONS IN DANGER

Blood Poison May Result From the Wounds, Which Are Filled With Putrid, and Ten More Victims May Be Added to the List.

Findlay, O., May 23.—Two simultaneous explosions in the fireworks and railway torpedo plant of the Lake Shore Novelty company, working overtime on rush orders, killed at least seven employees Sunday, injured five others beyond hope of recovery and fifteen others badly. Two other persons are missing and are believed to have been blown to atoms. The entire plant, which covered ten acres of ground, was utterly destroyed. Not a single wall remains standing.

So violent were the explosions that the whole city was shaken, many windows were broken and bricks and timbers from the demolished factory were scattered for half a mile from the scene.

The explosions took place in the two drying-rooms. In the magazines that blew up were great quantities of potash and this was hurled into the bodies of the men and women who were injured, as a result of which the doctors fear blood-poisoning may cause the death of ten of those hurt less seriously. The dead: Joseph Sherwood, 21 years old; Jay Sherwood, 24 years old; Edith Dillon, 17 years old; Dean Shaw, 18 years old; Mary Snider, 22 years old; Estella Decker, 15 years old; Frank Grant, 21 years old.

Two other employees are missing and are supposed to have been blown to atoms. The injured: Maggie Logan, will die; Thomas Beck, cannot recover; Claude Shaw, twin brother of Dean; Edie Peterman and her brother, Roy, both will die; Carrie Peterman; May Leavis, Louis Weingartner, Minnie Doll, Mrs. Doll, Minnie Quinlan; J. S. Leary; B. C. Swisher; William Baughman.

MacCLAIN

Lay Blame to Torpedoes.

The plant covered nearly ten acres of ground in the southwest part of the city and employed nearly 200 men, women and children. Railroad torpedoes and Fourth of July explosives were manufactured. Owing to the large rush orders the officials had requested the employees to work Sunday and about thirty collapsed.

The residents of Findlay were startled by the two explosions, which shattered windows throughout the city. The concussions were felt for miles around. Two magazines in separate rooms exploded simultaneously. It is surmised that one of the Sherwood brothers, the only persons in the drying-rooms, dropped a large box of torpedoes, thereby causing the explosion, but this theory cannot be confirmed.

Die on Way to Work.

The explosions occurred shortly before the employees assembled for duty. At least twenty persons were on their way to the factory. Human forms were strewn considerable distances apart on the factory site. The remains of the Sherwood brothers were found in drying-room No. 1, mangled and almost unrecognizable. Their clothing had been blown from their bodies, except a stocking on the right foot of Jay Sherwood.

The body of Edith Dillon was picked up 200 yards from where the explosion occurred.

The property loss is $60,000. The plant, it is said, will not be rebuilt.

VATICAN MORE THAN TROUBLED

Pope Gives Up Sunday to the Consideration of Trouble with France.

PAPAL NUNCIO STILL IN PARIS

French Nuncio Has Been Recalled and Has Arrived in Paris at Orders From His Home Government.

(Special by Scripps-Mellie.)

Rome, May 23.—Vatican authorities continue agitated over the conflict with the French government growing out of the protest against President Loubet's visit to Rome and the recall of M. Nisard, the French ambassador to the Vatican. The pope said mass Sunday morning in the presence of sixty-four Italians and foreigners, and gave up the rest of the day to the consideration of the difficulties with France, reading clippings from newspapers on the subject. The Vatican authorities hope that M. Nisard will soon return to Rome, being influenced by the fact that his family is still here.

Trouble in Modified Note.

It is believed the Vatican of Paris became possessed of the note of protest addressed to the other powers, which varied from that sent to the French government, through the principality of Monaco, the Vatican's note to which was stronger than that addressed to the other Catholic states in consequence of the report that Prince Albert of Monaco intended to visit the King of Italy, and also because Prince Albert was the friend of Captain Dreyfus, who had worked against the French government.

It is said Prince Albert was offended because the late Pope Leo refused the Peter's Pence sent by Monaco because it came from gambling operations, and because the Vatican rejected Professor Klein, translator of the works of Bishop John L. Spalding of Peoria, Ill., who was proposed by Prince Albert as Bishop of Monaco.

Papal Nuncio Remains.

Paris, May 23.—M. Nisard, the French ambassador recalled from the Vatican, will confer with Foreign Minister Delcassé and go over the details of the rupture between France and the Vatican. Contrary to general expectation, Mgr. Lorenzelli, the papal nuncio at Paris, will not leave his post.

The Lanterne complains that the government has not fulfilled the promises made to the parliamentary leaders that a complete rupture would take place, and declares that the leaving of a charge d'affaires to carry on routine business with the Vatican will not be satisfactory. The more moderate elements appear to be satisfied with the course of the government, while the reactionary clerical papers express regret.

The ministry of the interior authorizes a denial of the statement that M. de Navenne, first secretary of the embassy, will act as charge d'affaires at the Vatican, stating that the government considers his selection would minimize the importance of the action taken in the recall of Ambassador Nisard.

TOASTS TO COOK THAT ARE TIMELY

How Our Candidate for Governor Is Considered by Those Who Know Him.

On the night of Dec. 17, 1903, at a banquet given by the Menasha club, Samuel A. Cook was toasted as a prospective candidate for governor of the state of Wisconsin. Since that time, as is well known, he has become the candidate of the republican party for that office.

In Madison Thursday night a few of his friends were celebrating the victory of their candidate, and one of them read the following toast which was drunk to Mr. Cook at the Menasha banquet last December.

To the great Cook who goes forth from the dining room of his club to manage the kitchen of the state.

May he have the dignity of a negro butler and the neatness of a New England housewife.

May he season the political stew so neatly that it shall be a clear, wholesome menu.

While his celery he earned in the culinary department may he cut the onion to his advantage and while he sees the creation of many a new dish may he never be a lobster.

And while he may have brown bread often, may it never be brown stuff.

Toasts he will have in plenty but may they be so turned by his excellent hands that they be as luscious as the turkey, though his friends shall be spared the suffering of three hour chestnuts.

May his punch reach his adversaries solar plexus and his cheese straws be other than straw votes. And we also hope that his ice cream will never be a frost.

Could we ask better than his entree be the full confidence of the people; his salads the triumph of administrative art, May his game be put rather than roast and his deer be not dear.

May he have success in warding off all blows although it be not with warlike arms.

And in the end may this sturdy American cook excel in the excellence of his courses any French chef who may undertake to over-pepper the sauce of the people.

And at last may the coffee that closes his administration bill of fare be clear and rich and of such flavor that it returns to us our dreams, soothing, restful and delicious.

Gentlemen, "Our Cook."

The toast was heartily cheered on its second presentation.

Single Hair saves money.

Behr, the inventor of the monorail railway, that has proved a success on the continent of Europe, is trying to induce London to adopt it. It is much less costly than the double-rail system, and he says he can arrange to run it at the backs of houses, instead of along the street.

Didn't Like His Face.

One Virgile Marry of Paris attacked a stranger with a knife because he considered it "an unfriendly act for a man with such a face to go about the streets."

First Champagne.

Perignon, the butler of a monastery near Eprenay, in France, is said to have first made champagne successfully in 1643.

It came from gambling operations, and because the Vatican rejected Professor Klein, translator of the works of Bishop John L. Spalding of Peoria, Ill., who was proposed by Prince Albert as Bishop of Monaco.

WILL OLD FOGY BE SEATED NOW?

JUDGE FIFIELD EXPLAINS THE LIBRARY SITUATION.

ANSWERS THE OLD GRUMBLER

Tells How the Library Board Has To Pinch the Corners To Make Ends Meet.

To the Editor of the Gazette:

In view of the remarks of your corner judge signed "Old Fogy" regarding the opening of the Public Library during the noon hour, and your editorial comments thereon, the other members of the library board have requested me to ask you to give our reasons to the public for not so doing. The library board have always tried to give the best service to the people that they were able to give with the funds at their command. They have been forced to serve and plan in every way in order to keep the library up on the appropriation. Those who have never examined the matter do not know what large expenses are required yearly for rebinding supplies, replacing worn out books and the other necessities in running a library. We have always tried to buy a few new books each year, for if the library begins to go backward or stand still it loses its influence. The fund only allows us to employ four employees including the janitor, and only to pay them salaries ranging from twenty to thirty dollars. The board would like to employ more, but it is impossible without our present appropriation and we have felt that it was better to keep it open in the evening rather than in the morning.

The appropriation that has to cover all expenses including buying of books is only thirty-five hundred dollars. This is less than one dollar a year per patron drawing books. The work of the library is educational as is the school work and the cost of one dollar per patron is interesting in comparison with the cost of the school which is nearly twenty dollars per scholar attending, per year, or a total of fifty thousand dollars for something over 2500 pupils. Hon. Andrew Carnegie has in his gifts placed the minimum sum necessary to run a library at ten percent of the cost of the library. We had thirty thousand dollars from Mr. Carnegie, and ten thousand from the F. S. Eldred bequest or a total of forty thousand dollars—so that our appropriation is five hundred dollars less than the minimum per cent necessary. Besides this our building has been built by eminent architects and builders to be fully equal to any other building they had ever seen costing not less than fifty thousand dollars. Our heating bill has quadrupled and other maintenance bills doubled since having an entire building to ourselves, so that you can see however much we would like to give greater service we cannot do it on our present appropriation.

Yours Respectfully,

MANY CHANGES IN FOOTBALL GAME

New Rules Will Make the Play Even More Open Than Last Year—Danger Lessened.

The changes in football rules as announced by the football rules committee for the coming year are very important. The open game made by the change in the rules last year seems to have met with great favor among the devotees of the sport and the new rules for the coming year tend to make the game even more open.

The most important changes have to do with the value of the drop kick and the possibility of the mass play. The new rules will make the game vastly more interesting to the spectator and at the same time lessen the danger to the player.

The rules committee decided that six men must be on the line of scrimmage all the time. Four men besides the quarter back may be played behind the line in any part of the field, but one of these men must be played outside of either end of the line.

Penalties will be limited to from five to fifteen yards for all offenses requiring a distance penalty. The rules concerning penalties will be codified and placed in one portion of the book so that officials of games can find them without delay.

The umpire is to have instead of the ordinary whistle, a bell or horn or some other instrument. This is for the purpose of enabling the players and spectators to distinguish between the signals of the officials. When the umpire gives his signal the team completes the play which has been started, paying no attention to the signal until the ball is downed. If a long run has resulted from the play during which the foul was committed the run is allowed of the foul has in no way caused or interfered with the checking of the runner.

Hereafter any deliberate attempt to draw an opponent offside will be considered as a delay of the game and will be punished with a penalty of five yards.

If a fair catch has been interfered with either by the catcher being thrown or otherwise, he may receive fifteen yards and put the ball in play by a scrimmage or receive five yards and have a free kick.

When a team is forced to bring the ball out from behind the goal line after a touchback or safety and the ball is kicked twice out of bounds the opponents must put it in play from the thirty-five yard line as before.

On a punt after a touchdown the opposing team must stand not closer than fifteen yards from the man doing the punting. This is a change from the former allowance of ten yards.

Other minor changes have been made and a number of changes in phraseology were made in order to clear up doubtful points.

In general the new rules will advance the checker board idea so that the entire gridiron will now be checked off.

NO EXAMS OR NO BIG PARADE NOW

University Students Do Not See Faculty Rules as Faculty Wishes Them To.

Madison, Wis., May 22.—"No examination, or else no students at the jubilee celebration." This is the ultimatum that the students of the University of Wisconsin have put up to the faculty. The undergraduates have virtually threatened to strike unless the faculty makes material concessions in the way of lightening or omitting entirely the final semester examinations. It is the feeling of the hundreds of students who have this determination is not appeased by the authorities, and there seems no probability that it will be the great semi-centennial jubilee celebration of the University of Wisconsin and the inauguration of President Charles I. Van Hise the first week in June will be merely a gathering of great educational figures and functionaries, but without more than a generous sprinkling of regular students. There is nothing to keep the undergraduates at the ceremonies other than their own inclinations and a state of feeling adverse to the wishes of the faculty has arisen which promises to cause most of the students to remain away, that is to leave the university community for their homes, when the much looked for celebrations arrive.

The students feel badly towards the faculty for several reasons, one being a "joke" by President Van Hise, made at a university pre-jubilee dinner, to the effect that he ordered that the examinations be dispensed with. The next day he said he did not mean it, 'twas merely an after-dinner joke. The faculty committee also refused to allow any financial help out of the $20,000 jubilee fund for the expenses of the Cornell crew west and that trip was therefore abandoned. The faculty also ordered that no students should be allowed in the jubilee procession without the classic cap-and-gown garb and this too has many students feel badly. The absence of practically all of the undergraduates would seriously affect the success of the great celebrations planned and the president and faculty are therefore worried.

SUNDAY SERVICE HELD YESTERDAY

AN EPITOME OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH SERVICE.

SAME SERVICE AND SERMON

Every Church of This Denomination Follows the Bible and Text Book.

The subject of the Sunday Sermon at the Christian Science church, known as "First Church of Christ Scientist in Janesville," was "Ancient and Modern Necromancy or Mesmerism and Hypnotism." The churches of this denomination have this same sermon called Lesson-Sermon in all churches on each Sunday. The Sermon is read by two readers and consists of passages from the Bible and the Christian Science Text-Book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the discoverer and founder of Christian Science. References to the passages are furnished in a printed pamphlet, much resembling the Sunday School Lessons of other Churches and are read from the books alternately by the Readers, one reading passages under one sub-division of the general subject from the Bible and then the other reading corresponding passages from the Christian Science Text-Book. These readers are called simply First and Second Readers. No remarks explanatory of the text are made so that the Readers are given no opportunity to state their own personal opinions. The view point of the Scientists concerning the Sermon is best stated in a quotation from the Explanatory Note which is always read by the First Reader before the sermon is commenced. "The canonical writings together with the word of our text-book, corroborating and explaining the Bible texts in their spiritual import and application to all ages, past, present and future, constitute a sermon undivided from truth, uncontaminated and unfiltered by human hypotheses and authorized by Christ."

The interesting subject of Necromancy was treated in an original manner by the Christian Science Sermon. Mesmerism and hypnotism as the title of the subject indicated were considered as merely modern names or varieties of necromancy. So also was animal magnetism and all beliefs in evil as a power. The First Bible passage was from Job, chapters one, verses six and seven: "Now there was a day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the Lord, and Satan came also among them and the Lord said unto Satan, whence comest thou? Then Satan answered the Lord and said: From going to and fro in the earth and walking up and down in it. Next reference, Isaiah, Chapter 19, verses 11 to 13. "Surely the princes of Zoan are fools, the counsel of the wise Counsellors of Pharaoh has become brutish; how say ye unto Pharaoh, I am the son of the wise, the son of ancient kings? Where are they? Where are thy wise men? and let them tell thee now and let them know what the Lord of hosts hath performed upon Egypt. The princes of Noph are deceived; they have also seduced Egypt even they that are the stay of the tribes thereof." The next reference, Ephesians, Chapter two, verses one to three. "And you hath he quickened, who were dead in trespasses and sins. Wherein in time passed ye walked, according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience. Among whom also, we all had our conversation in times past in the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the desire of the flesh of the mind; and were by nature the children of wrath even as others."

Then the following passage from Science and Health were read. Page 103. "As used in Christian Science, animal magnetism or hypnotism is the specific term for error, or mortal mind. It is the false belief that mind is in matter and both evil and good; that evil is as real as goodness and more powerful. This belief has not only a false knowledge of malice. The malicious form of animal magnetism is uttered in moral idleness." Page 102. "Animal magnetism has no scientific foundation; for God governs all that is real, harmonious, and eternal, and His power is neither animal nor human." Page 484. Mesmerism is mortal, material illusion. Animal magnetism is the voluntary or involuntary action of error in all its forms, and is the human antipode of divine Science.

Science must triumph over material sense and Truth over error, thus putting an end to the hypotheses involved in all false theories and practices. "The tenth, eleventh, and thirteenth verses of Chapter twenty of the Book of Numbers were then read. "And the clouds departed from off the tabernacle; and behold, Miriam became leprous, white as snow; and Aaron looked upon Miriam, and behold she was leprous. And Aaron said unto Moses, Alas, my lord I beseech thee, lay not the sin upon us, wherein we have done foolishly and wherein we have sinned. And Moses cried unto the Lord, saying, Heal her now, O God, I beseech thee." Then from the sixteenth chapter of Revelation, first and second verses and verse eleven. "And I heard a great voice out of the temple saying to the seven angels, Go, and pour out the vials of the wrath of God upon the earth. And the first went and poured out his vial upon the earth; and there fell a noisome and grievous sore upon the men which worshipped his image and the fifth angel poured out his vial upon the seat of the beast; and his kingdom was full of darkness; and they gnawed their tongues for pain, and blasphemed the God of heaven, because of their pains and their sores, and repented not of their deeds."

The correlative Science and Health references were, Page 101. "Discomfort under error is preferable to comfort. In no instance is the effect of animal magnetism recently called hypnotism, other than the effect of illusion, Page 209. "It is the mortal belief which makes the body discordant and diseased, in perpetration as it is governed by ignorance, fear and human will. Page 401. "Any human error is its own enemy, and works against itself; it does little in the right direction and much in the wrong. If so-called mind is cherishing evil passions, and malicious purposes, it is not a healer but engenderer of disease and death." Page 405. "The heat of hatred inflaming, brutal propensities, the indulgence of evil motives and aims, will make, any man (who is above the very lowest type of manhood) a hopeless sufferer. They consume the body with the fires of hell." Page 175. "Human fear of misdeeds would lead with disease the air of Eden, and weigh down mankind with superimposed and conjectural evils. Mortal mind is the worst foe of the body, while divine Mind is its best friend." There were four more subdivisions of the subject to the effect that the same mental action called hypnotism produced an encephaloid Truth, was the mortal hatred of Truth and is overcome by Truth.

RELAY TEAM WON AT WHITEWATER

But Janesville High School Was Fourth in the Final Reckoning.

Evansville carried away the palm at the district track and field meet held in Whitewater Saturday. Janesville took fourth place with a record of fourteen points, six and a fourth being won by Myers. The relay team composed of H. Myers, F. Davis, W. B. Tallman, and A. Smith, distanced all competitors and H. Myers ran a winning quarter in fifty-five flat. A. Smith's head-work in the half mile was faulty, otherwise he stood a good chance of winning first. Gordon of Mt. Horeb was the high point winner, having fifteen to his credit. He won the hundred yard dash in 10 1-5 seconds the best record among the high schools this year with the exception of the 10 flat record made by the Pontiac sprinter.

AMONG THE WORLD'S WORKERS

News Notes From Various Sources of Great Interest to the Workman.

The American Thread Co. has received orders at offices in Holyoke, Mass., to put the manufacturing department of the plants at that place on a five-day schedule.

A union of cooks and kitchen help in New York City has started a free employment bureau for members only. They are now demanding fewer hours of labor and a six-day week.

Numerous conferences between Fall River mill agents have led to the expectation that new steps are to be taken within a few days to meet the unsatisfactory cotton manufacturing situation there. The plan of running them mills four days a week which has been tried for five weeks has proved disappointing. A number of the corporations have sold raw cotton from their storehouses because it was more profitable to sell it than to make it up into goods.

Surfacemen of the Baltic, the Champlain and the Tide Mountain mines of the Copper Range Consolidated Co., of Houghton, Mich., are out. This brings work of every description at the companies' mine to a standstill, involving over 2,500 men.

During the past year the cigar makers international union has gained 2507 members and increased the general fund about $115,000. One hundred and fifty locals, with a membership of 10,000 have received increased wages. Thirty-three new locals have been formed, making a total of 475, with a capital of $500,000.

United box-makers and sawyers have an international membership of 31,000, and 12,000 of that number are paper box makers.

Detroit, Michigan carpenters have presented demands for two and one half cents an hour, four hours a day on Saturday and one apprentice to every 15 men; also the hiring only of union men when such men are obtainable.

The great textile strike at Crithmitchaus, Saxony, in which 10,000 men held out five months for higher wages and a ten hour day, ended in the complete defeat and the surrender of the strikers.

The box-makers' union of Jersey City, N. J. started a co-operative box factory, employing its own members and paying the highest union wages.

In Russia all wages have to be paid in cash. There are no factory stores or store orders. Employers cannot discharge workmen contrary to the terms of their contract, nor impose fines except in accordance with the rules of the Department of Labor.

Official announcement has been made recently by the window glass workers of America of a reduction in the wage scale. It is given out that the cut is about 18 per cent single and 14 per cent on double strength glass. It was said the concession made would result in starting all the idle plants within two weeks, and that employment would be given to all members.

The aggregate number of members of the various Danish co-operative institutions exceeds 400,000.

STEALING A CONVENTION.

The charge has been made repeatedly that the La Follette convention held at Madison last week, claimed a majority of the delegates present by deliberate and carefully planned theft.

It is a serious charge, and yet every fair minded man who was present will be forced to admit that the contested delegations were manipulated solely in the interests of the administration.

When it was discovered two weeks ago that the tide had turned, an order was issued to file contests wherever there was a shadow of excuse and if no cause existed to create a cause, and thus secure a majority in the convention.

This programme was carried out to the letter and if 200 delegates had been necessary, they would have been secured.

Mr. Hanson of Beloit is authority for the statement that a state official called on him and asked to see the credentials in the first district of Rock county. When asked if he was looking for contests, he said he was. It will be remembered that this district had only two La Follette votes out of 57, and yet it would have been thrown out in a contest and the votes been needed.

The seventh ward of Milwaukee with five delegates elected by 178 majority was disfranchised. There was no contesting delegations, but the action was taken on some flimsy pretext.

There isn't a republican in the state who respects his manhood, who will stand for this sort of chicanery. The court of public opinion will stamp its seal of disapproval on such high-handed proceedings in terms that will be clearly understood. This is not republicanism. It is a lie on the part, and the man who seeks to perpetuate himself in office by such methods, will learn to his sorrow, if not to his shame, that the intelligent people of the state will no longer submit to his behests.

The republican ticket headed by the Hon. S. A. Cook, is the only republican ticket in the field. It was placed in nomination by a convention representing a well defined majority of the party, and as time advances, and the facts concerning the methods employed by the minority to defeat the will of the majority, are brought to the surface, an army of the Governor's forces will forsake him because they are republicans and care more for party than for personalism.

A radical change of sentiment is already going out throughout the state, and it will increase in volume until a reunited party marching under one banner, will present a solid phalanx in November.

Does this seem a venturesome statement? If so, watch the trend of events and be convinced of its truthfulness. The drama at Madison was but the culmination. The party was in dire peril, and the men sent there to redeem it represented a thoughtful and earnest constitu-

cy. It is well to remember that in the counties not represented that this class of men are not in the minority. There are thousands of republicans throughout the state, whose voices have been stifled, who belong to the conservative class, and there are thousands more who admire the Governor as a man, and yet who do not endorse the methods employed to renominate him.

The republican convention at Madison, which nominated the ticket under discussion, adopted the only honorable course that was open to them, and their action will be endorsed by the rank and file of the party throughout the state.

ROCK COUNTY TO THE FORE.

Rock county enjoys today a conspicuous place on the political map of the state. There are two or three reasons for this prominence, and they are not only creditable to the county but an honor as well.

No county in the state was better represented in the state convention, and the men who cast her 32 votes in the interests of fairness and justice, were thoughtful, conservative men, possessing convictions of their own, and the courage to enforce them.

The delegation was honored in the selection of M. G. Jeffris, to lead the republican forces in their demands for justice and fair treatment, and it was soon discovered that no mistake was made in the choice.

It was a trying and delicate position demanding courage and skill, combined with tact and determination, but Mr. Jeffris was equal to the occasion, and no man in the state is better known, or more generously applauded within the ranks of the republican party, than he.

The executive ability of Theo. W. Goldin has long been recognized in the county but now, he enters a broader field, and as chairman of the state central committee the republicans of the state will be given an opportunity to work with him, as he organizes and directs the campaign. They will find him a tireless effective worker, conservative in judgment and practical in method. No better man could have been found for this responsible position.

The personal of the delegation was strong throughout. There were many quiet, intelligent workers, whose influence was felt. The county appreciates the honors conferred, and when the votes are counted in November it will maintain its position as the banner republican county of the state.

THE OLIVE BRANCH.

There is a general disposition on the part of conservative republicans throughout the state, to extend the olive branch to men who disagree with them, and who have heretofore been connected with the La Follette wing of the party. This spirit is highly commendable and entitled to every encouragement.

It is perfectly natural for men to differ on political questions, and while these differences have been very pronounced during the past four years, there is no reason why they should longer exist.

The success of the republican party, both in the state and nation, is of supreme importance.

Men who have worked together in the past now have an opportunity to work together again, on one common platform. The past, with all its differences, has gone, and the sooner it is buried from sight, the better for all concerned.

There are many men who admire the Governor and yet who are not prepared to follow him beyond the bounds of reason. They have reached the limit and will not hesitate to choose between party loyalty and admiration.

One of these men, and he represents a large class of republicans who do their own thinking, called on Mr. Jeffris at one o'clock last Friday morning and said, "I am a delegate in the Governor's convention, sent down here from one of the northern counties under instructions to vote for him on all propositions. I have been faithful to the trust and have voted against you all day, but I want to say to you that I was never so ashamed of anything in all my life, and I am going home to say in my paper, to my constituency, that I carried out your demands to the letter, but I am ashamed of you for demanding it. Hereafter I am a republican."

There were two or three counties in the La Follette convention that were ready to bolt and join the republican convention, and it was extremely difficult to hold them in line. The republican party is entitled to its own and thousands of men are glad of an opportunity to join its ranks. There is only one republican party in the state and there will be but one republican ticket in the field. It is the party of Lincoln, Grant, McKinley and Roosevelt, and it stands on the solid foundation of equal rights and majority rule. It will be the winning party next November and under its banner factional strife will disappear like the dew in the morning sun.

HEAVENLY HARMONY.

The New York Sun thus discusses harmony, not overlooking Wisconsin. He must be a bad man, fit for treasons, stratagems and bolts, who is not refreshed, strengthened and made better by the Republican praise meeting, the undisturbed sound of pure consent, now heard all around.

In New York, all the organs play "Benny Boodle's Come to Town" and "Hail to the Grant."

In the Indiana gubernatorial stakes the Hon. Charles Warren Fairbank's entry the Hon. J. Frank Hanly, has beaten the Hon. Bertie Beveridge's entry, the Hon. William Lawrence Penfield. The bands play

"Over the Wabash to Charlie."

In Ohio, the Hon. Myron T. Herrick, the Hon. George Boss Cox and the Hon. Charles Dick dance deliriously around the Hon. Joseph Benson Foraker, while wind and wood and brass innumerable utter the sweet entreaty, "Do You Love Me, Joey, Darling?"

In Illinois, Yates men, Lowden men, Hamlin men, for many days have been giving one another black eyes in the most cordial, informal, delightful way. Music by the band: "The King of the Cannibal Islands," "The boy was clumsy, O! He ate you up and put you down."

And tucked you in his tummy, O! In Wisconsin, to-day, Governor, La Follette, the man that eats the railroads, is expected to eat alive P. M. G. Payne, Senator Spooner, Congressman Joe Babcock of Neenah and divers other pieces of the ancient hatched machine. If he does, 'tis but to incorporate them in himself, fuse and transmute them. Broided live politician is this excellent man's favorite diet. Blow, musicians, and crack your cheeks! O, Nob LaFollette has Come Out of the West."

The democratic leaders throughout the state are tearing their shirts to begin operations of capturing Wisconsin this fall now a friction has come in the republican ranks. They forget however that fair-minded democrats have so far deserted the old Lady that she has few chosen sons outside of the cities and these are tinged with isms.

That democratic donkey is pricking up his ears and taking notice of things. It really believes that Willie Hearst would be the lightest weight that could ride him and he hopes he will not have the burden of brains of free silver to carry.

WITH APOLOGIES.

"We may live without poetry, music and art;
We may live without conscience, and live without heart;
We may live with our friends; we may live without a book;
But Wisconsin Men can not live without COOK."

One assistant sergeant at Arms objected to be classed with the wrestlers, professional pugns, ex-college athletes and law breakers who guarded the doors of the La Follette meeting. If he objects, why did he go there when he knew such an element would be in control.

Time is money and he who steals you steals money. This is a good saying but how about the spell binders that are waking from their four years sleep.

Illinois republicans are still at sea. The only difference is that some of the high rollers will have to go home and explain to their wives what they did do when they didn't do what they tried to do.

Japan knew when to retreat. Its leaders are like the famous king who led his army up a hill and then led them down so they could fight another day.

Do you suppose the waves of Lake Mendota as the wash about the gubernatorial mansion Madison sound anything like the waves washing on the coast of St. Helena?

Banesh stood for what he represented and sacrificed himself for Roosevelt and Cook and party harmony.

Personal ambition of one man wrecks the whole machinery that years have been consumed in building.

Disfranchisement of a few thousand voters does not bother "reformers."

Two republican tickets are in the field. One is republican what it the money.

Political activity will soon turn towards, Chicago.

The Free Press begins to realize that it is like the man without a country.

Janesville be the center of the political activity of the state for some time to come.

Can three be one and one be three and yet hold a democratic caucus?

Did you know Spooner attended the republican convention at Madison last week?

The hour and the man. Jeffris and the republican convention.

The man to follow. "The man named Cook."

Will the social democrats join La Follette's party as his chairman Lemroth said they would?

The fifth ward of Milwaukee has once more been placed upon the map.

PRESS COMMENT.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Gov. La Follette persisted in rocking the boat till he fell out.

Fond du Lac Reporter: Sam will Cook Bob's goose.

Oshkosh Northwestern: The La Follette Republicans will have plenty of time to repent at their leisure, and when they give evidence of repentance they will be welcomed back into the fold.

Chicago Record-Herald: A Wisconsin Republican cut his throat when he heard that Governor La Follette had been renominated. Evidently they take their politics seriously in Wisconsin.

Waukesha Freeman: It requires a strenuous life to keep the record of a Republican convention by a majority, but the training may be essential in teaching that eternal vigilance which will alone preserve our liberties.

Exchange: Chicago has produced a modest man. He argues that the germs in the city water are getting so large it is positively indecent for them not to wear bathing suits.

Kenosha Gazette: Between these three men in the east, Cleveland, Olney and Parker, there is a good deal of the "after you, my dear Alphonso," business. It means something.

Cincinnati Commercial Tribune: The fact that a copy of the Commonwealth was found in the stomach of a steer slaughtered at Pittsburgh ought not to be attributed to the animal for population. It must be taken as an evidence that Mr. Bryan is determined to carry the war into the very bowels of the beef combine.

Geneva Herald: In the house of representatives there are 206 republicans and 177 democrats. A net change in 15 districts would give the democrats control of the house, provided it was the right kind of a change. But "safe and sane" as the democrats think they are, it cannot be done.

Milwaukee News: And the "reformers" had the supreme effrontery to resolve against the "pass bribe," and clamor for "additional legislation" to strengthen the law which the La Follette administration has enunciated by its toleration of the "reform" officials that were caught in the act of violating the law!

Green Bay Gazette: Conservative republicans of Wisconsin should now stand together and at the polls rebuke the dictator who by his arbitrary methods and vicious scheming has brought about the present conditions of the party in this state.

Appleton Crescent: The rank growth of the heresies of populism and socialism lately in the dominant faction of the republican party of Wisconsin has attracted to that faction the rabidest classes of all other parties. These citizens who prefer plain sane government will turn to the democratic party in Wisconsin for relief.

Madison Journal: By some subtle law of degeneration, new and religious usually develop weakness in the matter of the relation of sex. It has been one of the remarkable and creditable features of Dolewism that thus far no scandals have occurred. It does not take long however, for the sunbathing cult, which is engaging the phlegmatic society of Chicago and other intellectual centers, to resort to trouble. One of the chief converts a wealthy candy store man, is charged by a lady with laying great stress on holding hands as a feature of the religious life.

Racine Journal: The suggestion that a new convention with consequent new caucuses, be called, with the understanding the convention decides on the eligibility of its own delegates, is not unreasonable. Such a convention if both sides will agree to it, and it is believed the voice of Senator Spooner would approve, would terminate all factional divisions and leave the questions of importance before the people to the legislature where they properly belong, anyhow. Such a convention is not held before July or August it would be in plenty of time.

Evening Wisconsin: The selection of two sets of delegates from Wisconsin for representation at large will come before the national convention on June 15. That convention will be the supreme court of our party, and whichever way it decides must be final. If La Follette and his cohorts of Third-termers are accepted that will settle the question against Cook delegates. If La Follette and his squad are rejected and not admitted, that will render them irrelevant, and if La Follette persists in his contumacy that will expel him and his associates from the national Republican party of the United States. So let all true republicans of the state rest quietly until the national convention meets on June 16, and that body will determine which is the regular division of the republican party in Wisconsin.

During the First Three Innings of the Game Played Saturday—Y. M. C. A. Juniors Beaten.

Herman Kadl's Clinton Maroons made the Beloit College enthusiasts hold their breaths for the first three innings of the game played Saturday afternoon. Then the collegians connected with Frank Alken's curves and from the seventh inning on piled up a huge score. The final score was 18 to 4. The Clinton Y. M. C. A. Juniors who seemed to be man-queering under false colors, so far as age was concerned, beat the locals by a score of 9 to 2. In the early part of the contest Floyd Kilmer was hit in the head by Joe Clinton pitcher and had to leave the field. W. Gregory was put in to catch for the locals, and B. Kilne and F. Wilkerson held down the pitcher's box for the home boys. Cox did some good work on third base and Griffiths and Hennison were above the average at the bat.

A LONELY CAUCUS.

A story is told of one Democratic caucus held in the town of Turtle Creek in Rock county that well illustrates the thinning out process occasioned by the large turnout of the fair-minded at the Republican caucuses, says the Rock County Journal. The Beloit Free Press tells the story and the prominent character was once upon a time elected to congress from this very district. Says that paper: "The Democratic caucus held in the town of Turtle at the Town hall was one of the most harmonious political gatherings ever held in that town. Absolute unanimity prevailed, and the harmony was so perfect that it was almost oppressive. Ex-Congressman Babbitt was elected chairman; Clinton Babbitt was made secretary. 'Clint,' Babbitt moved the election of delegates to the county convention and they were elected by the unanimous vote of 1. Our ex-Congressman is all that is left of the Democratic party of the town of Turtle—at least all who take interest enough to attend a caucus."

It was a good thing for Clinton that he and his credentials did not wander too far from the county in search of a Democratic convention. The old stagers would have remembered Clint Babbitt and let him in, but the other fellows would certainly have banished him as an arrant intruder.

SUMMONED BY DEATH SUNDAY MORNING

Alfred Dewey Passed Peacefully Away
at His Home on Milton Avenue, Aged Eighty-Five Years.

Alfred Dewey, an honored pioneer of Janesville, for the past fifty years, was summoned by death at his home on Milton ave. Sunday morning at an early hour. The cause of his death was a general breaking down as the result of advancing years. Deceased was born April 11th, 1819, in Deerfield, Onida county, New York, and was the son of Zenas and Prudence (Smith) Dewey. His father was a native of Connecticut, and the family is of English origin, but dates its residence in America to a time prior to the war of the Revolution.

Mr. Dewey grew to manhood in his native county, and there learned the business of gardening with his father, who was a horticulturist. In the fall of 1840 he went to Galena, Ill., that region of the country then being greatly noted for its lead mining interests. From Galena he went to Shullsburg, and in the spring of 1841 went to the town of Exeter, in Green county, Wis., and engaged in mining until the spring of 1842, when he came to Janesville reaching this city on the tenth day of May, since which time he has continued to make it his home. At the time of his arrival there was not a single house on the west side of Rock river, in what is now the city of Janesville, and on the east side was a little village, containing about 150 inhabitants.

Mr. Dewey then engaged in the carpenter business and made that his chief occupation, though for a number of years he devoted considerable attention to gardening. He always took a great interest in the advancement of the community, and in 1847 while Wisconsin was yet a territory, he served as deputy sheriff of Rock county. On the 17th day of March, 1847, Mr. Dewey was united in marriage to Miss Elmira H. Stiles, of Vermont. Deceased was a prominent member of the First Congregational church of this city. William Lathers' Farm Structure Was Entirely Destroyed Saturday Night.

Had William Lather and his family slept but five minutes more they would never have awakened in this world. As it was they awoke to find their house partially demolished, their farm buildings in smoldering ruins and they themselves just managed to leave the burning house in safety.

On Saturday night last the farm buildings and part of the home of William Lathers who lives a few miles south of Turtle were demolished by fire. Just how the blaze originated is not known, but it was not discovered until the farm buildings had been burned and the flames had licked up the kitchen of the house. So fierce was the fire and so quick the progress of the flames after discovery that the Lathers family were barely able to escape with their lives. The losses in the neighborhood of eight thousand dollars and the insurance is but five thousand.

Slump of the Champion Pittsburgs a Feature of the National Campaign. Kid Nichols Optimistic. Collegians and the Pro- fessional Game.

The sensational slump of the Pittsburg Pirates, champions of the National league, is one of the striking features of the baseball season.

The grand hurrah with which the tribe of Dreyfuss opened their campaign gave the general public the impression that a fourth consecutive pennant for the Pittsburgs was a foregone conclusion.

"But, oh, what a difference, in the morning!"

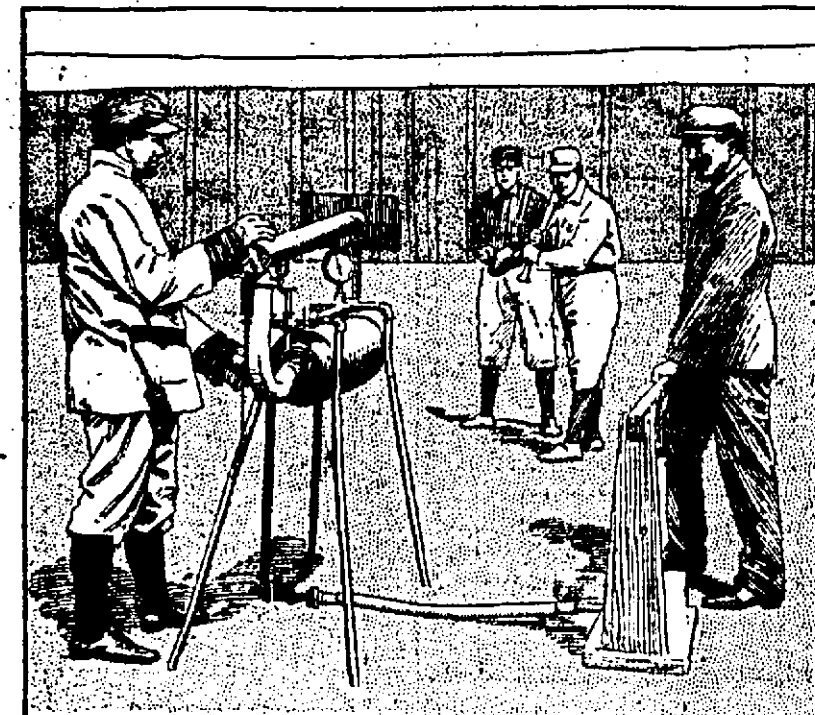

The Smoky City braves have awakened to face stern reality, a reality that tells

NORMAN GIBSON, BOSTON AMERICANS. (Gibson is one of Jimmy Collins' most reliable twirlers. He was a big help to the champions last year and is again "making good" this season.)

them that "there are others" in the pennant race. New York, Brooklyn, Chicago, Cincinnati and St. Louis are going to have a finger or two in the championship pie this year if hard work is worth anything at all, and Captain Fred Clarke's leather pounders must be up and doing if they expect to be "in at the death."

The reason for the Pittsburg collapse is stated in many quarters to be due to the lack of pitchers, or, rather,

TWIRLER M'GINNITY (NEW YORK NATIONALS) OPERATING A PITCHING MACHINE.

[Pitching machines are becoming more and more popular among baseball players. They deliver a remarkably swift ball and consequently are of great service in developing between. They are used in practice and thus relieve pitchers of much work. The New York Nationals have a pitching machine, which they use every morning when at home.]

the lack of effective pitchers. Philippi is not in his usual fine fettle, and with reliable Leever out of the game the outlook is not of the brightest.

Unless President Dreyfuss can get his grapping irons on a couple of good box artists his pennant prospects for 1904 will fade away like the proverbial "stars of the morning."

Rube Waddell of the Philadelphia Athletics says he has grown wiser during the last six months and now feels certain that the Athletics will win the championship with his help.

To say the very least, Rube is modest. But still modesty has ever been the accompaniment of genius, and so we are not surprised at the erratic Rube's low appraisal of his playing ability.

However, if Rube will "put the brakes" on his wonderfully uncertain disposition and settle down to hard work he can do much to keep the Athletics within striking distance of the leaders. When Rube is "right" few twirlers can follow his pace. He once struck out sixteen men in a single game.

"In regard to the chances of the Cardinals for finishing first in the National league race for the pennant, it is too far in advance to make anything like an accurate forecast, but I shall be much surprised if they do not land in the money," says Manager Charles Nichols of the St. Louis Nationals.

"Our practice work in the south was encouraging beyond even what we expected. Our pitching staff has shown that we are as strong in that very important branch as any team in the league, or very close to it. Corbett is doing excellent work, and O'Neill is in form there are no pitchers in the business that can give him anything. Saunders is doing nicely, and I am in very fair form. McFarland and Woods have shown up well. So our pitching staff will not suffer."

"With Byers, Zerkoff and Starnagle the catching department is getting along very well. For the outfield Smoot, Barclay and Shannon are a trio that any team can depend on, and they are showing an encouraging propensity for slugging the ball. The infield is stronger than last year. With Grady, Farrell, Shay, Burke and Brain we have a reliable layout."

"That is about the way we look at present. Taking the team altogether, I think we have a splendid chance to land way up in the first division, and with our share of luck and accidents barred we may bring the ribbon to the world's fair city in the fall."

"To the man just breaking into professional baseball, as I am, the most noticeable feature is the number of college men in the game," says Weldon Henley, the Philadelphia American pitcher.

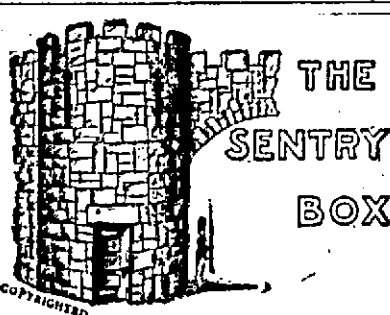

"For a decade the college man has been more and more sought as a means of recruiting professional teams. His natural alertness, the sharpening of his wits by education and his tendency toward general development through all round athletics make him an object much in demand as raw material for the future finished diamond star."

"More than ever has this been true of late, where colleges are taking up the sport more systematically and putting the team candidates through thorough training under old, experienced heads. An example is in the case of Yale, where Frank Donohue of the Cleveland club coached the pitching staff. Chesbro, New York American, drilled Harvard pitchers in the spring, and Fred Clarke of Pittsburg coached Princeton."

"Many college men have objected to playing professional baseball, but the prejudice is dying out. The influx of college men has had its inevitable influence on the game."

"In the last ten years the standard of education and deportment among ball players has increased remarkably. The rowdy element has been, to a large extent, eliminated, and where it still exists it is latent because of the influence of the better element of ball players."

"Thus the college man can find just as good company in professional baseball as he found in college baseball, and he will find very few players who

OUR INTEREST IN THE EASTERN WAR.

It is useless to attempt to forecast the final results of any war. There may be a "yellow peril" involved in the one now raging in the far East, no one can tell in what direction that peril will develop. No war, of modern times at least, ever ended according to programme.

Our own experience is significant. The Revolutionary War did not aim, originally, at independence, but it made a nation. The war of 1812 arose over insignificant disputes, but settled vast policies. The Mexican War originally concerned only Texas, but gave us California. The War of the Rebellion was begun to repossess forts, etc., but ended in emancipation. The Spanish-American War originated in Havana harbor and brought us the Philippines.

Each of these unexpected results has been a distinct step in the march of human progress. The same rule can be applied to modern European wars. While man proposes, fights he suffers, an eternal purpose seems to guide the outcome toward better results than man can foresee.

The sentry sees no reason why history should not repeat itself in the present case. We may be sure that among other things there will be an awakening of public spirit and a vast increase of mental activity among the inert masses of Russia, China and Japan. The awakening of China with its four hundred million souls will be an achievement of such moment that it must profoundly affect future currents of human history.

For years astute European nations have kept missionaries to China carefully distributed for assassination purposes, that excuses might be found for spoliation of territory. They have played upon the ignorance and fanaticism of that people. Nothing stirs up a nation like war. Those who keep an eye upon China may see something unprecedented in the result of the conflict now going on. Japan has already been somewhat aroused, but this, its first really great war, will thoroughly enliven that country.

The "Yellow peril," so far as it relates to the possibility of Asiatic invasion of Europe or America with armed forces may be dismissed to the future. The belligerent hosts would have to assimilate the knowledge of at least five hundred years to be of use against countries equipped with all the devices of modern warfare.

But all these peoples, Russians, Japanese and Chinese will inevitably as a result of the awakening now in progress, begin to take note of their own governments and demand reforms. Thus, this condition is a step toward the final doom of despotism. A recognition of the democratic tendencies of Japanese influence accounts for much of the continental hospitality shown toward that country. Czar and Kaiser desire to exploit Asia, not to promote the advancement of Oriental races, but to keep them down for their own purposes. Japan would lift them up and make them stronger.

The war itself, through its quickening influences on the human mind, will do much of this work. No matter which nation wins the victory, the result will be a tremendous advance in civilization. With that comes increased productive power, increased desire to trade and a vast increase in individual wants. The common people will loudly demand and be able to buy articles of foreign production.

Here is America's interest and opportunity. Here is the outlet for our surplus productions, adapted to new markets. Wheat for the Chinese many of whom never tasted flour; cotton for China and Japan; machinery and fabrics for the vast agricultural regions of Siberia.

Nobody more than the American appreciates commercial opportunity and when that opportunity comes coupled with the chance to bear a part in the uplifting of a great population, it is doubly welcomed. Since the average American believes that his opportunities in a China developed under Japanese tutelage would be indefinitely greater than in a China shackled by Russian despotism, the average American sympathizes with Japan.

How to shape the political policies of this country so as to guard against a possible "yellow peril" and how to formulate trade regulations so as to get the best advantage of changed conditions, are among the problems of constructive statesmanship which now confront us. Those who are satisfied in the assumption that we have the best government on this or any other earth must bestir themselves to study the rapidly unrolling developments of the current epoch in order that we may maintain that proud position and get all the benefits which it legitimately yields.

Special Curtain Sale

Tuesday and Wednesday, 24th and 25th.

On the dates above mentioned we will hold an important sale of Curtains. Why is it important? Simply because Southern Wisconsin's Greatest Stock of Lace and Drapery Curtains will be on sale at Special Prices.

It is hard to describe such a stock so that people can form a right appreciation of its magnitude. The best things in Curtains are gathered here, bought from America's leading makers and many imported novelties direct from manufacturers' agents in New York.

THE BIG STORE gets there with the goods, while other concerns here abouts do a good deal of blustering, but when it comes to a show down or show up there are many things missing. When reading the large claims made by many merchants about the size of their stock, too many people wink the other eye. They know too well where the largest assortments are shown. Make your plans to attend this sale Tuesday and Wednesday.

Curtains will be marked on the same basis as they were in previous sales. 3 3 3 3 3 3 3
